Pam & Joe Minnich, 40 year residents of the O.W.E., have painstakingly restored this 1892 beauty. Formally the International Institute, this couple has revealed the original beauty that many of our homes through history have lost. Celebrating 100 Years of Driving Community Change

Lucas Stall, Communications Specialist

This year, United Way of Greater Toledo is incredibly proud to celebrate 100 years of serving the community. Since our establishment in 1918, over $600 million have flowed from our doors and out to those who needed it most.

Today, United Way provides monetary funding for 68 community programs at 53 local nonprofit agencies. These various partners help strengthen our work in the areas of education, financial stability and health – what we believe to be the building blocks of a good life.

Many of our funded partners actually operate right here in the Old West End.

Lutheran Social Services, Scott High School Community Hub, Girl Scouts of Western Ohio and Word Shop at the Toledo Museum of Art are just a few examples of powerful nonprofits making a collective impact in our community. Additional social services such as United Way 2-1-1 and Imagination Library are also key programs in which Old West End residents have engaged in, and can access throughout the year.

Being in our centennial, United Way was pleased to welcome a new President & CEO, Wendy Pestrue, who assumed the role in February.

"Toledo is such a wonderful city. There are so many local individuals who have unbelievable passion to make our community a better place," said Pestrue. "Long-standing institutions like United Way, and energetic neighborhoods like the Old West End, make our city vibrant and strong."

Each year, United Way raises over $10 million, engages more than 300 companies, maintains nearly 20,000 donors and mobilizes 10,000 volunteers to create real change and help those in need.

United Way greatly appreciates the cultural and social significance the Old West End has contributed to the story of Toledo. In the future, we hope you will join us in celebrating this historical and monumental moment in time! To donate, volunteer or learn more about United Way, please visit unitedwaytoledo.org.
